Abstract:

Kampo, based on ancient Chinese medicine and traditionally practiced throughout Japan, is part of Japan's national health insurance program. Dr. Hattori, Director of the Kampo Scientific Strategies Division of Tsumura Research Laboratory, introduces Tsumura's strategy to determine how Kampo works in vivo. Prof. Yakabi, Professor of the Department of Gastroenterology and Vice Director of Saitama Medical Center, at Saitama Medical University Medical School, describes the latest research results about how psychological state and neural activities relate to gastrointestinal problems. Prof. Yakabi is one of the main organizers of the 17th Annual Meeting of Japanese Society of Neurogastroenterology, November 12-13 at OIST.

The seminar will be in English. We look forward to seeing many of you at the seminar!
