

The Provost Lecture Series 4

B250

In celebration of her promotion to tenured Associate Professor

The Provost Lecture Series will provide an opportunity to celebrate milestones in the careers of OIST faculty members. It will recognize newly promoted professors and those who have received prestigious awards. It will highlight faculty achievements and create a space for retiring professors to talk about their research accomplishments and lessons learned over the course of their career. It is a way to celebrate OIST faculty, introduce them to the broader OIST community, acknowledge their research successes, share about their teaching and mentorship of students, and honor their service to the university.

From so simple a beginning

Tues., Jan. 24th, 2023
16:00-17:45 Sydney Brenner Lecture Theater B250

Associate Professor, Protein Engineering and Evolution Unit

Paola Laurino

Chair: Professor Simone Pigolotti, Biological Complexity Unit

Office of the Provost  provost_office@oist.jp

