

The Provost
Lecture Series 14

B250

In celebration of her promotion to Full Professor

Singing in the brain:
learning to vocalize
by communicating others
during development

Professor, Neuronal Mechanism for Critical Period Unit

Yoko Yazaki-Sugiyama

Chair: Professor Jeff Wickens, Neurobiology Research Unit

Monday March 25, 2024

16:00–17:30 Sydney Brenner
Lecture Theater B250

Office of the Provost ✉ provost\_office@oist.jp

The Provost Lecture Series will provide an opportunity to celebrate milestones in the careers of OIST faculty members. It will recognize newly promoted professors and those who have received prestigious awards. It will highlight faculty achievements and create a space for retiring professors to talk about their research accomplishments and lessons learned over the course of their career. It is a way to celebrate OIST faculty, introduce them to the broader OIST community, acknowledge their research successes, share about their teaching and mentorship of students, and honor their service to the university.