

The Provost Lecture Series 19

In celebration of his promotion to Tenured Associate Professor

B250

Contingency and convergence in brains and behavior

Associate Professor, Computational Neuroethology Unit

Sam Reiter

Chair: Professor Timothy Ravasi, Marine Climate Change Unit

Fri., Apr. 25, 2025

14:00–15:30 Sydney Brenner Lecture Theater B250

Office of the Provost ✉ provost_office@oist.jp

The Provost Lecture Series will provide an opportunity to celebrate milestones in the careers of OIST faculty members. It will recognize newly promoted professors and those who have received prestigious awards. It will highlight faculty achievements and create a space for retiring professors to talk about their research accomplishments and lessons learned over the course of their career. It is a way to celebrate OIST faculty, introduce them to the broader OIST community, acknowledge their research successes, share about their teaching and mentorship of students, and honor their service to the university.

