

Recognition Opportunities for Donors to the 10th Anniversary Campaign

OIST's award-winning architecture,
state-of-the art facilities,
and breathtaking natural environment
inspire scientific breakthroughs
and create lasting memories.

Now, you can be a part of it.

We recognize the importance of unrestricted philanthropic gifts by creating personalized naming opportunities for our donors whose generosity and legacy will remain an integral part of OIST's beautiful campus.

While recognition is given for unrestricted gifts that support the overall development of OIST, we offer naming opportunities at different gift levels in the following areas:

- Academic Life
- Campus and Environment
- Science x Arts
- Intellectual Exchange
- Academic-Public Partnership

Naming recognition for gifts with specified designations are also possible. Please contact us to discuss:

First 5 Rows Available

Naming Opportunities
Academic Life

OIST's state-of-the-art auditorium is situated prominently near the public entrance to campus. It is the venue for major university events such as Graduation Ceremony and Anniversary Celebration, which have welcomed distinguished guests including Nobel laureates, industry leaders, foreign diplomats, and national governmental officials. It is also the site of large community events and international workshops. A name plate will be affixed to the top wooden edge each chair, facing the stage.

ENTRANCE WALKWAY BENCHES

1 MILLION JPY

4 Available

Naming Opportunities
Campus &
Environment

The main walkway is a place for OISTers to stop and enjoy the view of the University's entrance. Four new benches with arms, each featuring a name plate on the back, will add needed seating to this prominent entry canopy.

AUDITORIUM BENCHES

1 MILLION JPY

3 Available

Naming Opportunities
Campus &
Environment

The auditorium, which is a popular destination for the on-campus and off-campus community, will benefit from new benches that allow visitors to rest before and after events, or during intermissions.

SKYWALK BENCHES 2 MILLION JPY

8 Available

Naming Opportunities
Campus &
Environment

The enclosed skywalk connecting the Center Building and Laboratory Building 2 (Lab 2) overarches the rich valley flora blow and offers brilliant views of the East China Sea. Along with Lab 2, this skywalk's sustainable design earned a green building certification by Leadership in Energy & Environmental Design (LEED). The benches lining the length of the skywalk are not just beautiful, they are also essential. Hidden beneath each one are vibration dampeners that prevent oscillation caused by high winds and earthquakes, keeping the skywalk stable even when subject to extreme forces. A name plate will be affixed to the front of each bench.

SMALL MEETING ROOMS 8 MILLION JPY / ROOM

TBD Available

Lining the hallways of laboratory buildings across campus, small meeting rooms with state-of-the-art teleconference technology facilitate the quick exchange of ideas among OIST students, researchers, and staff. A name plate will be placed at the door of each meeting room.

OUTDOOR PERFORMANCE STAGE 10 MILLION JPY

1 Available

Naming Opportunities
Science x Art

This outdoor area has seen Ph.D. science students perform classical Indian dances, play sanshins, and set up liquid nitrogen-made ice cream shops at the annual OIST Science Festival. It is situated outside of the prestigious Sydney Brenner Lecture Theatre in the Center Building, with a staircase leading to the Café and the Center Court. A name plaque will be mounted on the wall.

LAB 2 COMMON AREA 15 MILLION JPY

1 Available

Naming Opportunities
Campus &
Environment

The common area in Laboratory Building 2, across from the Language Learning Center, is a social space that facilitates less formal intellectual exchange. It is a popular destination for OISTers to rest, think, and converse. It is also a stop along OIST's campus tours. A name plaque will be mounted on the wall that also features a painting by Naoko Matsubara.

CLASSROOMS 15-20 MILLION JPY

2 Available

Naming Opportunities
Academic Life

Situated at the center of Laboratory Building 3, right across from the entrance at the beautiful open-air skywalk over the Center Court, these classrooms (one slightly larger than the other) are accessible and visible to everyone on campus. Students often sit on the couches in the hall just outside, waiting for the next lesson or seminar on their favorite subjects. A name plate will be placed at the door of each classroom.

POND 20 MILLION JPY

1 Available

Naming Opportunities
Campus &
Environment

The pond is a peaceful oasis situated at the bustling Center Court surrounded by the Center Building and the first three laboratory buildings. Members of OIST's campus community pass by the pond daily, meet colleagues there for lunch, contemplate in solitude, or enjoy special events. The nearby statue of Nobel laureate and Founding President of OIST School Corporation Dr. Sydney Brenner, reflecting on the vision of OIST, imbues this small pond with even more meaning than its natural beauty implies. A name plaque will be installed by the pond.

CONFERENCE CENTER ROOMS 10-30 MILLION JPY

4 Available

Naming Opportunities
Academia/Public
Partnership

The OIST Conference Center is adjacent to the auditorium, easily accessible by the public through the main entrance to campus. The Center's meeting rooms are available for use by external community members, industry partners, and other organizations. The largest conference room is sized at 114 sqm and the three smaller ones are 33-36 sqm each. A name plate will be placed at the door.

SMALLER SEMINAR ROOM 50 MILLION JPY

1 Available

Naming Opportunities
Intellectual Exchange

This seminar room in the Center Building has hosted Board of Governors and Board of Councilors meetings, presidential presentations to VIP guests in the government, industry, and academia, and significant academic workshops. A name plate will be placed at the door.

LARGER SEMINAR ROOM 60 MILLION JPY

1 Available

Naming Opportunities
Intellectual Exchange

This larger seminar room in the Center Building has hosted Board of Governors and Board of Councilors meetings, presidential presentations to VIP guests in the government, industry, and academia, and significant academic workshops. It is equipped with a microphone at each seat and an interpretation booth to conduct simultaneous interpretation. A name plate will be placed at the door.
