

George Elliott

Towards a theory of classification: C*-algebras and dynamical systems

Abstract: Examples are discussed of (concrete) categories that admit an abstract classification functor, and it is pointed out that in some cases, involving C*-algebras, the abstract classifying category takes on a satisfyingly concrete form.